Kingsbury News Past

All the news that's fit to print about what was happening in Kingsbury . . .

The August 20, 1901 edition of the Houston Post (in it's "XVIITH YEAR" - I guess that means 17th year - I've never seen Roman numerals with "TH" before) had an article on the marriage of Manse Childs and Miss Earnest Jones of Kingsbury. They honeymooned in Galveston before returning to live in Kingsbury. Miss Jones's name was actually spelled "Ernest" according to her headstone in the Kingsbury Cemetery.

Elsewhere in 1901, C. Gromback has a telegram waiting, stutterers and stammerers are blazing their way to Drs. Randolph & McCullough, Hostetter's Bitters (for flatulency and malaria - oh my!) has one fancy looking ad, and the Lone Star Cypress Cistern Shop has all your cistern needs. The dog catcher found a double harness in the weeds, J.V. Love sells rubber stamps but starts the ad with "Was ist das?" (not sure what "What is that?" in German has to do with rubber stamps!), Captain Karner, who was a veteran of Texas' defeat of Santa Ana at San Jacinto, passed away in Mexia, and Texas Rangers had a shootout with "Flores, a desperado and cattle thief". Eagle Brand uses milk from cows that are, among other things, "scientifically fed", Cascarets Candy (made with cascara from the buckthorn tree which was a laxative) were "Best for the bowels", two families were poisoned by eating ice cream made in a "slightly rusted" freezer, and the Frisco Line will take you to the Pan-American Exposition which was the World's Fair in Buffalo, NY that year near Niagara Falls which is pictured in the ad.

There is an undelivered telegram at the Postal Telegraph office, 118 Main street, for C. Gromback.

Louis Setzelberger, official dog catcher of the city, yesterday found a set of double harness in the weeds at the corner of Smith and Capitol.

Was ist das? Stencils, rubber stamps, notary and lodge seals, metal checks, etc. J. V. Leve, 2205 Mechanic St., Galveston.

San Antonio Blazing
San Antonio is in a blaze of excitement over the many stuttering and stammering people who are coming hundreds of miles to see Drs. Randolph & McCullough, those noted specialists of the voice from St. Louis, who cured so many stutterers in Dallas last winter. They will be at the Baugh House a few weeks in answer to the call of numerous stutterers who requested their return. We see that the Texas Christian Advocate, Texas Stock and Farm Journal, as well as other leading papers, are loud in their praise. Write them.

Full Hunter's Moon

This coming Wednesday, October 24th, is the rising of the Full Hunter's Moon.

Most of our monthly Moon names come from Native American and early American folklore. However, the Full Hunter’s Moon is one of two Moons that is a longstanding astronomical term. Specifically, the Hunter’s Moon is always the first full Moon after the Harvest Moon (which is the closest full moon to the autumnal equinox).

The Hunter’s Moon rises right around sunset—and sets around sunrise. It’s the only night in the month when the Moon is in the sky all night long.

Because the Hunter’s Moon rises around sunset near the horizon, it may appear bigger and more orange than your typical Moon. However, this is just the “Moon Illusion.”

In the autumn months, there’s no long period of darkness between sunset and moonrise for several days in a row, around the time of full moon. In the days before tractor lights, the lamp of the Harvest Moon helped farmers to gather their crops, despite the diminishing daylight hours. As the sun’s light faded in the west, the moon would soon rise in the east to illuminate the fields throughout the night. A month later, after the harvest was done, the full Hunter’s Moon was said to illuminate the prey of hunters, scooting along in the stubble left behind in the fields.

MOON FACTS AND FOLKLORE

- Corn planted under a waning Moon grows slower but yields larger ears.
- Babies born a day after the full Moon enjoy success and endurance.
- A new Moon in your dreams promises increased wealth or a happy marriage.

At the S.A. Queen

The S.A. Queen in Kingsbury was in what is now the vacant lot next to the old post office on Railway Street. It was owned by Sterling Anderson "S.A." Queen and his wife Annie Pearl Walker Queen, and locals referred to it simply as "Queen's" or "Queen's Cafe". The Queens (S.A., Annie, and daughter Uyvonne) lived in the building, sold burgers in the cafe, and had a bar with bar stools and a juke box. The girls here are Mary Jane Appling, Glenda Ferrell, Joyce Hurt, and Dorothy Chessher. They may be going to the theater which was west of Queens and apparently was showing the movie "Algiers" with Charles Boyer and Hedy Lamarr. That movie was about a thief hiding the the native quarter of Algiers called the Casbah, and was the inspiration for the movie Casablanca. Boyer's character, Pepe le Moko, is said to be the inspiration for Looney Toons' skunk Pepe le Pew who was known for telling a reluctant cat (that always had a mishap with some white paint) "Come wis me to ze Casbah!" It's a long way from Kingsbury to "ze Casbah", but that's what movies are for!
